More about the center

The Kigali Convention Centre (KCC) is a purpose convention facility built and supported financially by the Rwanda government and incorporated in 2013. The facility is managed by the Rezidor Hotels ApS Danmark (A Danish Company with registration number CVR73337712). The purpose of the KCC is to attract conventions, and multi-day meetings and events to Kigali generating economic benefit for the community and is part of the Government. The Kigali Convention Centre (KCC) is the heart of the Kigali Convention Complex, adjacent to Radisson Blu Hotel & Convention Centre (RHBCC). With a net floor area of 32,200 m2 the building contains facilities for business, leisure and events. A wide variety of gastronomical facilities are offered to the visitor such as a café, an exclusive All-Day-Dining Restaurant and a luxury Fine-Dining Restaurant. Furthermore, the property offers a 12,610 m² function space spreading over the 20 different venues. The Auditorium underneath the Dome is a multifunctional hall. It holds enough space for a variety of events, ranging from summit events with 100 participants to a pop concert with 2.600 people. Direct public access is possible from the Platform on the rooftop. In this case, the Auditorium and the Platform can achieve their full potential as a market and meeting place for the city and the people of Kigali. The translucent cover of the dome reflects the scenarios and illuminations to the outside, sharing impressive spectacles with the whole city. The elegance and generosity of the Kigali Convention Centre is mirrored in the adjacent five star Radisson Blu Hotel & Convention Centre just across. The hotel’s comfort, style, and convenient location attract business people as well as tourists, and offer the visitors to the Kigali Convention Centre an enjoyable stay. The Radisson Blu Hotel & Convention Centre is built according to the latest sustainability considerations to make a visit entirely comfortable and at the same time provide an ideal environment-friendly solution. Every room is supplied with an individual balcony that not only provides extra comfort and space, but also shade, helping to keep the rooms consistently cool. Sheltered through the wings of the hotel, the courtyard with a pool, wooden decks, palm trees and a bar, creates an atmosphere of recreation amongst the business district of the capital city. The lobby bar and the spa area are both directly connected to the courtyard. The courtyard is terraced, reflecting the typical landscape patterns of Rwanda. These terraces are planted with typical flowers, which bloom in colours yellow to red. The KCC can host events of all sorts and sizes, with impressive Auditorium able to accommodate 2,600 delegates. The total capacity of the KCC exceeds 5,000 spreading over the 20 different venues. The smallest meeting rooms are suitable for exclusive VIP or board meetings of 10 delegates, while the large conference halls of which the KCC has four, can easily accommodate any number of delegates from 200 to 900. Because many of the meeting venues in KCC can easily combined to offers unrivaled flexibility and scale
