

Palais des Congrès de Montréal

Center information

 1001, place Jean-Paul-Riopelle
Montréal (Québec) - Canada

 [1] 514 871 8122

 <http://www.congresmtl.com>

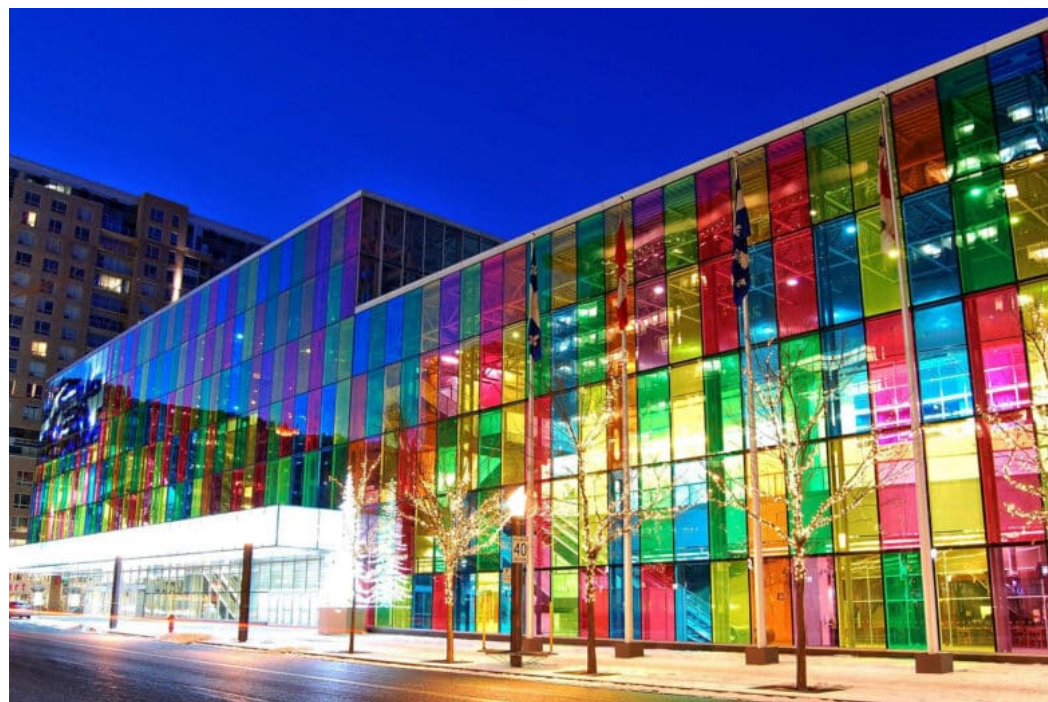

Contact information for market inquiries

Luc Charbonneau

 Director, Business Development and Strategic Alliances

 luc.charbonneau@congresmtl.com

 [1] 514 871 3154

More about the center

Montréal, the Number One host city in North America for international events, is a hub of higher learning and innovation. The city is home to no less than 5 universities, 200 research centres and 60 international organizations. Also known for its nightlife and gastronomic cuisine, Montréal is a safe, cosmopolitan city where French, English and 80 other languages are spoken. Located at the heart of the city, the Palais des Congrès de Montréal houses 113 rooms and spaces equipped with the latest state-of-the-art technology. The venue features a unique architecture, is certified as an ecoresponsible meeting venue, and serves as a customs clearance point by the Canadian border services. Some 15,000 hotel rooms are nearby within a 10-minute walk, 4,000 of which are linked to the Palais via Montréal’s underground city. What really sets the Palais experience apart is a team of professionals passionate about providing outstanding service, working side-by-side with organizers from the bidding phase to the event’s closing by responding to their needs with actions that deliver results. Take your event to the next level. Host it at the Palais des Congrès de Montréal.

Key information

| | | |
|----------------------|--|----------------------|
| Total function space | Theatre/Auditorium seats | |
| 51280 m² | | |
| Meeting rooms | International airport | Adjacent hotel rooms |
| 113 | Montreal – Pierre Elliot Trudeau International Airport | 15000 |