Global Disruption; Industry Impacts

Keynote Speaker: Dr Linda Yueh | Adjunct Professor of Economics at London Business School, and a Fellow in Economics at St Edmund Hall, Oxford University

Once again, our conference will be taking place at a point of significant geopolitical global turmoil and expectations of an economic correction accompanied by escalating trade disputes and uncertainties around Brexit-driven EU issues. To help make sense of it all and put these global events into an industry-specific perspective we will have a recognized international economist and commentator as our opening keynote.
