12th Annual AIPC Sales & Marketing Summit

Frankfurt, 14 May 2017

Venue: Kap Europa, meeting room Plateau

Theme: Disruptive Forces Affecting the Meetings Industry: What They Mean for Convention Centres

Unprecedented global events are reshaping all aspects of the meetings industry - and convention centres need to be aware of what it takes to adapt to changes ranging from major geopolitical events and new destination agendas to evolving client expectations and event strategies. Satisfying clients and meeting delegate needs while driving revenue for owners is a delicate balance for convention centre sales and marketing managers - and these topics will drive wide-ranging discussions with industry leaders and colleagues at this year’s Summit!

09:30  Registration and welcome coffee

10:00  Overview of the Program: Barbara Maple, Summit Moderator

Welcome by IMEX Group: Carina Bauer | CEO

AIPC Welcome and Orientation: Geoff Donaghy | President

10:15  The Future of Place Branding: What it Means for Your Destination

Robert Govers is an independent advisor, researcher, speaker and author on the reputation of cities, regions and countries and will be exploring the question of how destination branding is evolving and what centres need to know and do in order to ensure their specific needs are being properly addressed in the current environment.

10:45  The Big Picture: Industry Trends Impacting Centre Marketing

Drawn from a range of current research and analysis, including the preliminary results of the 2017 AIPC Member Survey, this session will review the most important industry trends and impacts and provide a sense of how centres around the world are responding to these. Included will be issues such as competition, changing business practices, convergence, advocacy and new client expectations and challenges in areas ranging from centre design to facility security.

Presenter: Rod Cameron | Executive Director, AIPC and JMIC
11:15  Advancing Meeting Objectives in the Corporate World

Corporate buyers are under extreme pressure to satisfy their client’s goals in an era where travel budgets are shrinking and the need to demonstrate ROI within their organizations is under scrutiny. Helms Briscoe’s role in researching, contacting and evaluating venues means they are a critical player in matching the needs of their association, corporate, and incentive clients with global destinations. This session will provide the latest information on changing requirements and how venues can better respond to RFP’s in this environment.

Presenter: Mark Phillips | Vice President, Operations at HelmsBriscoe
